

RURAL GENERALIST

To become a Rural Generalist, you will need to apply to the Queensland Rural Generalist Pathway. The pathway is 5-years (full time) consisting of 3 training periods:

- PGY1 and PGY2 - Pre-vocational Plus
- PGY3 - Advanced Skills Training (AST)
- PGY4 and PGY5 - Vocational Training (completing fellowship with Australian College of Rural & Remote Medicine and/or The Royal Australian College of General Practitioners).

Entry requirements/pre-requisites

- Successfully complete a medical degree from an accredited Australian or New Zealand university and be in the final year of study at time of application.
- Hold an Intern applicant group status of A or B: Medical graduates of Australian or New Zealand Universities with Australian or New Zealand citizenship or permanent residency.
- Have received or be eligible upon graduation for provisional medical registration with the Medical Board of Australia.

Application and selection process – how to apply

Applications open approximately March each year, however prospective trainees can express interest in joining the pathway at any time.

Once trainees are ready to enter Vocational Training, contact your Regional Training Organisation. There are two Regional Training Organisations (RTO) that coordinate the General Practice training in the Southern Queensland Region. The RTO for Darling Downs is General Practice Training Queensland and for South West Queensland is James Cook University General Practice Training.
