

Regional Training Hub Southern Queensland

Student and Rural Junior Doctor Mentor Program

The UQ Regional Training Hub Rural Junior Doctor Mentor Program has been designed to support UQ Students during their rural rotations and subsequently with the objective of encouraging rural and regional career pathways.

The Benefits of Mentoring

Mentors

- Provide nurturing supportive care to students
- Inspire the next generation of rural doctors
- Share real-life experiences, assist in problem solving and lateral thinking
- Promote medicine as a career, highlighting the benefits of living, learning and practicing rurally
- Contribute to the long-term success of the Integrated Rural Training Pipeline for Medicine (IRTP) initiative

Mentees

- Receive independent, trusted support and guidance from a colleague with greater experience
- Help with personal and professional career development in medicine
- Assist with integration into the local community
- Reduce professional isolation
